"AN ENGLISH WHIG"

British Sociologist So Characterizes The President.

London, April J .- S. K. Rateliffe, the noted sociologist, said in public culogy of President Wilson: "He is at heart an English Whig." He was speaking on "Changing America," before a distinguished audience last night. He characterized Wilson as a cultivated gentleman, thoroughly steeped in English law, history and politics and "who at heart is an English Whig." On the immigration question, he declared "America is not a melting jot, fender of the law's majesty yesterday, but a pot of varnish."

ELECTRIC SIGNS!

The distinguishing air of quality which a firstclass Electric Sign gives to a store is the element which gives a sign its greatest value as an advertising medium and investment. The impression it makes is good. It blazes forth to the public that there is business enterprise, merchandise and methods up-to-date. It affects the entire atmosphere of the business district. The stranger says, "It is a live town," and publishes it abroad.
